GOSPEL REFLECTION

Today's gospel gives us the concluding words of Matthew. The risen Jesus meets with the Eleven, wounded by betrayal and failure, still a very human mix of hopeful faith and hesitant doubt, of adoration and indecision. For our consolation, these are the disciples to whom Jesus entrusts the inclusive mission of making disciples to whom Jesus entrusts the inclusive mission of making disciples of "all nations." With the authority of the risen Jesus, they are commissioned to baptize "in the name of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit," and to teach these new followers to obey everything that Jesus has revealed to them during his earthly mission.

His is no "absentee lordship" but a presence of a servant Christ who wishes to liberate rather than dominate. His church, therefore, must also be a humble servant that remembers that its authority is not absolute but is derived from Jesus; a church that identifies with those who are a very human mix of faith and doubt; a church that avoids all triumphalism and insensitivity to the wounded people of the world. And as we are the church, are we this kind of people?

♦Jesus commissions the disciples, "Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations." How does your parish community join in this work of "making disciples"?
